Application for Initial Certification for Public Libraries

Congratulations. By establishing a public library and seeking initial certification you position your library for a bright future. What libraries do matters! We make connections in people's lives that no one else in the community is positioned to do.

Certification for public libraries in Utah was established in 2006 and updated in 2016 with the goal of ensuring that public libraries in the state consistently offer services following the law and best practices.

The Application for Initial Certification document is intended to guide you in building that solid foundation. It is divided into:

- Initial Certification Process Overview
- Certification Checklist
- Key Statistical Benchmarks
- Glossary of Library Terms

In becoming a certified public library, you become part of something big.

- Your library will be recognized by the Utah State Library as meeting the standards of an accredited library.
- You position your library to receive Community Library Enhancement Fund (CLEF) money annually.
- You will become part of a wonderful community of colleagues that work together, talk together, and help each other become "better together."
- You will receive information on training, consulting, advocacy, grants, and many other resources.
- Your library will have an opportunity to be further recognized as a Quality Library by working to meet standards that will move your institution forward.

The certification process will be both rewarding and worth the effort as you raise your library up to be recognized for all the great works that you are doing. I have invincible confidence in your ability to use your own talents and those of your staff to benefit others in this noble work.

Sincerely,

Cara Rothman
State Librarian / Director, Utah State Library Division

INITIAL CERTIFICATION PROCESS OVERVIEW

- All public libraries in the state of Utah are eligible to apply for initial certification after they have been established by a city or county governing body for at least three years.
- The window for submitting an application for new library certification is open year-round.
- The library's governing body should submit a letter to the Director of the Utah State Library Division (State Library) signed by the library director, the library board chairperson, and a member of the city / county governing body requesting an Initial Certification Review.
- The letter must be accompanied by an application packet of relevant documentation in print (one copy) and in electronic format to support the library's request and as evidence of meeting all the requirements for certification.
- A consultant from the State Library will meet with the library director, the library board chairperson, or a member of the city / county governing body as appropriate to conduct an Initial Certification Review and go over the application packet.
- Based on the results of this Initial Certification Review, the consultant will recommend a Certification Status for the library:
  - Full Certification – if the library meets all certification requirements at the time of the evaluation, the library will be certified and eligible for benefits starting in the following fiscal year.
  - Not Ready for Certification – if the library does not meet all certification requirements.
- The Director of the State Library will appoint a review panel to evaluate the application. This panel may include State Library staff as well as external experts. Based on their assessment of the application packet, the review panel will recommend a Certification Status, and will forward their recommendation to the Director within 60 days of receiving the application. This process may include a site visit by panel members.
- The Director of the State Library will review the consultant's and the review panel's recommendations and make a final decision. The Director of the State Library will notify the applicant library of the final decision by letter within 90 days of receipt of the application.
- Libraries may appeal a certification decision of the Director of the State Library to the State Library Board within 30 days of receipt of the notification letter, specifying the reasons why they believe they are qualified for certification status.
- The State Library Board's decision shall be final.

KEY STATISTICAL BENCHMARKS

The Benchmark for each of the categories below is set at the level that 90% of Utah’s certified libraries currently meet or exceed. For initial certification the library should meet or exceed the benchmark in at least 7 of the 12 categories.

To do your own calculation, follow this example:

Library Visits

1. Multiply the per capita Benchmark indicated below by your library’s service population; this will be your library’s Benchmark number.*

* The benchmarks for Collections Budget and Turnover Rates are not per capita figures. To see if your library has achieved the Collections Budget and Turnover Rates just compare those benchmarks to your figures.

2. Compare this number with your actual number of visitors in your most recent statistical annual report.
3. If your actual number of visitors is higher than the Benchmark number, you have passed that category.

For your convenience, we have also provided a figure for calculating the level of an “average” library (the 50th percentile) and an “above-average” library (the 70th percentile) in each category.
